

WE'RE WALKING THE WALK

Please join me and Team CIBC—or form a corporate team of your own—and walk in the brand new Shoppers Drug Mart® Weekend to End Women's Cancers™

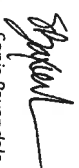

For what matters.

At CIBC, we are committed to the fight against women's cancers and we have been a major sponsor of the Weekend since 2004. Over that time, we have raised $1 million in support of the Weekend. Each year thousands of CIBC employees and their families and friends participate in events to support research in women's cancers and have raised more than $24 million.

Every time I participate in the Weekend walk with my colleagues, I am inspired by the experience. You too will be inspired by the hundreds of survivors who walk alongside you on this journey telling their stories of courage, determination and hope.

We are proud to show our continued support for the new Weekend to End Women's Cancers and for all those impacted by women's cancers.

I invite you to become involved this year by creating a corporate team of your own, or by joining Team CIBC. Let's all walk together and help end women's cancers in our lifetime.
